OCALA SOCIAL AFFAIRS

A prominent Georgia wedding taking place about October 1st will be the marriage of Miss Carol Deen of Gainesville and Mr. Frank Spratlin, a prominent young broker of Atlanta. Miss Deen has a host of friends in this city, made during a visit to Miss Minnie Stovall several summers ago. The wedding will be elaborate with a large number of attendants, among whom will be Miss Stovall. After their marriage the young couple will occupy a beautiful home in Ausley Park, Atlanta, the house and lot being a wedding gift from the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Deen.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete McIntosh are mourning the death of the former's nephew, Mr. Hugh Grant of Scotland, which occurred recently at the Dardanelles. Mr. Grant was graduated from the law department of the University of Edinburgh last May, at the age of 21. He joined the army immediately after his graduation and has been in active service since at the Dardanelles. He was a brilliant young man, with a bright future and the news of his death was received yesterday with profound sorrow by Mr. McIntosh and family.

McINTOSH

McIntosh, Aug. 11.—Mr. M. G. Bateman and son, James Means have gone to Calhoun, Ga., for a month's stay.

The Boys' Club has had a fine tennis court built in the town square and there are some very close games (when it does not rain) every afternoon. The club consists of eight members, Mr. William Christian president, Mr. Joshua Gist vice president and manager and Mr. Claude Sanders secretary and treasurer.

Quite an interesting dance was given at Gist's hall by the young men on Friday night which was very much enjoyed, eight couples participating. Music was furnished from Gainesville.

Mr. W. Hamilton and family have moved from the Christian hill into town, occupying the home recently vacated by the Larrains.

Mr. Ed Hopkins of Tallahassee, spent a few days with his cousins, the Norsworths, leaving for his home Tuesday morning. His friends were glad to see him looking so well and have him with them even for so short a time.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. W. R. Dedman gave a farewell party and handkerchief shower in honor of Miss Annette Gist, who left Thursday, the 12th, for San Francisco, and will sail from there the 25th for Japan. The guests, fifteen in number, were highly entertained by a floral contest. Each question when answered represented a flower. The booby prize, a bottle of catsup, was won by Mrs. Joseph I. Gist that she might "catch up." The refreshments consisted of ice tea and appetizing sandwiches, such as only Mrs. Dedman is known to make. Each guest was presented with a bunch of forget-me-nots. Upon leaving each one pledged their word they had had a most enjoyable afternoon.

Mr. Boulware and son Robert, who have been sick for several weeks with fever are convalescent.

THE CLERK GUARANTEED IT
"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and said to him, 'if this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it. So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured.' writes J. H. Berry & Co., Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.

BELLEVUE'S BUDGET

Our Special Correspondent is Again at Her Post

Bellevue, Aug. 11.—Yes, I am back from Gainesville where I have put in the last sixty days at the University summer school, studying my head off on grammar, English composition and several other studies, and wonderful to tell I can really tell a verb from a noun once more, if I should happen to meet it in the middle of the road, and it was good broad day light. I really believe that I could parse a sentence, if occasion required, and as for adjectives, why I am chock full of them.

This summer school is a bigger thing than the average Floridian realizes, and when one takes into consideration that there were six summer normal schools conducted in the state this year, with close to fifteen hundred students, all anxious to improve themselves in different lines of studies, it can be appreciated that the student body of Florida is advancing with rapid strides. This Gainesville University is a great proposition, and of it I will have more to say later on.

I also diversified the monotony by making a trip to Live Oak, and watching the postmasters of the state go thru the agonies of holding a convention. I'll tell you all about this too, when I get some time. But what immediately concerns me most is to find upon my return practically a deserted village, and at night it is so lonesome that I can go out and carve great hunks of lonesomeness out of the black night air.

I miss Mrs. Millsom's cheerful face, and hear that she is having a good time in Connecticut.

In looking across the open, I see that Sam Thomas' house is closed, and hear that he and Mrs. Thomas are enjoying a well merited trip to Nashville, Tenn., and the surrounding country.

In looking down towards the parsonage, I fail to see that long-legged preacher who tried to give Bellevue a correct imitation of Billy Sunday, and—

Upon looking up the street I see that Sister Mary E. Foggs house is closed, and learn that she is enjoying herself in a part of Georgia, where watermelon and chicken and all kinds of good things grow twelve months in the year. I also miss the imposing height of Mr. Sam Millican from the streets. And one face that I do sincerely miss and will always remember, is good old Uncle John Hafner, who ended his earthly career by hanging himself. Poor Uncle John meant well by all the world, and gave every one a square deal, but they took advantage of the old gentleman's big heartedness and handed him the short end of the stick, and it broke his heart.

Oak Knoll also appears deserted, and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hafner are enjoying the hospitalities of Central Pennsylvania.

Another face that I do not miss is that of big, good natured John Lyles. He has not gone, but has added to, and now it is Mr. and Mrs. John Lyles.

One face that I miss and it pains me not to see it, is that of Mrs. Ella Lyles Fant, who has lain so long in the hospital at Ocala, and who is making such a brave struggle to gain her health and get on her feet once more.

Another face that I missed by being away, was Fisk Bryant, who during my absence made a trip to Bellevue from Missouri bringing a brand new bride with him, showing her off to his home folks, and then fitting away to his western home, leaving people to wonder at what a fine big man he had grown to be. I will never forget the trip that I made down on the Caloosahatchee river on a steam boat that was run by gasoline, and that carried fish for a living, and of which Fisk was the captain, and I was a passenger, going up into the Everglades near Lake Okechobee. We meet people we know all over the world. Good luck to you Fisk.

I need some dress making, and upon inquiring about Mrs. John T. Hames, learned that she has hied herself away to her old home in South Carolina. The first night that I was home I looked very expectantly to see Freeman Hames' smiling visage appear at the doorway to fill his regular appointment, pumping the piano-player for our evening entertainment, and when he did not appear, I wondered why and was told that he had gone out into the world to carve his own path to fame and fortune, and that he was up in Virginia, making good money, and I know that he will do well wherever he goes.

This leaving home habit among our young people is growing contagious, for the last person whom I ever suspected of leaving home and traveling far, was Bennie Shedd, and now he is up by the salt water in South Carolina. And Folke Sjöberg going in the opposite direction is having a good time in Chicago.

I also miss Mrs. James J. Nelson, who is sojourning along the beautiful historical Hudson river in New York state, while Mrs. Ruth Perry Nelson is at her old home on Long Island Sound in Connecticut.

When I went away I left Dad Hardison laying sick at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Pratt, and nursed carefully by Mrs. Northy, and now I find him back in his own home, over in Hardison's addition to Bellevue, hale and hearty, while Mrs. Northy is in Atlanta, and Mrs. Pratt is just recovering from a severe illness, brought on by the long siege of day and night nursing.

I also miss the cheerful personality of jolly Mrs. Hopkins who is dividing her time between Bridgeport, Conn., and points on the Hudson river.

SEE THE FARM on the Silver Springs road which furnishes the Merchant's Cafe every day with fresh vegetables, milk and eggs. tf

In sauntering round the north end of town, I notice that Mr. Edwin Romer's house is closed and learn that he and Mrs. Romer and the little boy are summing in Cleveland, Ohio.

All these and more too, I miss, and I could go ahead and enumerate a whole column, but I am not going to because most of them are coming back again, and the time is not far distant when the tide of travel will begin to flow this way again.

One of the first smiles that greeted me upon my arrival home was jolly Mrs. Bohanon, who could hardly wait to tell me that she had bought the James Collins place, just north of the depot, by jimmies, and that Bellevue was her home now and for ever more, and the farm life for me.

After all this absence and coming back to this deserted town, person after person plied me with the question, "would I soon be writing for the Star again?" And that good old ally and faithful supporter of the Star, Mr. Isaac Nichols, was one of the first to greet me and press $2 into my hand for a continuation of the Star, and to express his pleasure at my being home once more. It is friendship like this that counts and that makes life worth the living and is what makes the world go 'round.

Another thing to add to my utter bewilderment and astonishment when I asked whose furniture was being shipped away, Prof. A. B. Connor appeared upon the scene—pompous and dignified as ever—and informed me it was his furniture that he was moving to Iverness, where he had accepted the principalship of the largest school in Citrus county, with a good faculty of teachers under him, and with Mrs. Connor as assistant to the principal. The world do move! And Prof. Connor is one of the movers, and we will watch him with interest as he climbs the ladder to fame and fortune in the school world of Florida.

In changing from the busy turmoil of school life at Gainesville back to the quiet monotony of home life in Bellevue, which is to be compared to jumping into a cool pool of water on a hot day, and to take the edge off, and let myself down easy to the regular routine of a hum-drum existence, I picked out the biggest, fattest, jolliest girl in the whole school and brought her home with me, and when Miss Olive Smith of Bartow left me at the depot last Monday afternoon and waved au revoir, I said good bye to school life and resigned myself to my fate.

SEE THE FARM on the Silver Springs road which furnishes the Merchant's Cafe every day with fresh vegetables, milk and eggs. tf
